

Mixed Brain Flavor : Linguistic, Psychological, and Artistic

1) I got a green stress ball brain from the Counseling Services Center.

I handed it over to my boyfriend, Here, have a brain.

Oh, thanks. I needed one of those, he replied.

He, put it on top of his head, and balances it.

2) Colorless green ideas sleep furiously.

World's most famous meaningless sentence.

Every rental ice does not boil correctly.

Hey, how come these sentences can't be as famous?

They are just as linguistically nonsensical.

3) Infinite number of monkeys get together with an infinite number of typewriters

and after an infinite amount of time,

one of them wrote Hamlet.

Am I the monkey that can type out Hamlet?

a) Is that still art?

b) Do I really know what I am talking about?

c) What if I'm not?

d) No one tells you that though. Grade me!

With numbers

With empirical data that I can rely on!

- 4) According to Erikson's Stages of Psychosocial Development
if you fail to have a meaningful relationship with your partner in your twenties, you get fucked up in your head.

Go on, get laid. It's doctor-recommended.

- 5) “We linguists hate most psychologists, especially behaviorists.”

“That’s alright. Social science hates psychologists, because they think we’re cocky.
And natural scientists hate psychologists, because we are a disgrace to science.”

- 6) According to Freud, normal is when someone falls into general range of expected behavior, with few quirks.

So if you are really perfect, you are fucked up.

- 7) In English, it’s Mommy

In Korean, it’s 엄마 (Um ma)

In Chinese, it’s 妈妈 (māma)

Something about that word is made easy for child’s mouth to pronounce.

Now say that word in your language.

Does it sound like formula that your mom use to heat up for you?

- 8) Just feel the word, the way it rolls off your tongue, don’t think the word.
