

Candidate Problem Statement 3

Generating Music Using Neural Networks

I am studying the creation of music through neural networks because I want to find out the extent of neural networks, and if they can create anything from authentic sounding samples to full songs in order to help my reader understand both the extent of a neural network's effectiveness in creating music, and how to capture elements of music computationally.